The image contains a matching exercise. On the left side, there are seven cartoon bears arranged vertically. On the right side, there are six honey jars arranged vertically. A large dashed box encloses the bears and a single honey jar. Dotted lines connect each bear to a specific honey jar: the top bear connects to the second jar from the top, the second bear to the first, the third to the fifth, the fourth to the sixth, the fifth to the third, the sixth to the fourth, and the seventh to the second. An arrow points from the honey jar inside the dashed box to the second jar from the top.
